

The Lowcountry

The place we live is known as the Lowcountry. Islands here are not like Gilligan’s Island but rather, they are areas of land just a few feet above sea level covered with ancient angel oak trees dripping with Spanish moss, Palmetto palm trees, and lush green underbrush. They’re separated by vast saltwater marshes with winding rivers and tidal creeks teeming with wildlife. The mood here is laid back and moves at a more comfortable pace. The air is heavy and smells of salt. Just past the marshes and the barrier islands are the ocean and all its mysteries. The Lowcountry is not just a description of land, it also describes a state of mind. It’s relaxing, tranquil, and a place we call home.

Construction

We use the bench method of construction. This means each piece of Seabrook Classics Furniture is built at the time of purchase by individual craftsmen. This allows us to modify our designs as you need them modified, many times at no additional cost to you. Should you want a CAD rendering of your changes, we can send that to you prior to production to ensure the piece is exactly what you want.

Working with a Designer

If you know what you are looking for, we are happy to help with your order. Our furniture is “designer quality”. It is not something you typically find on showroom floors. We work with interior designers throughout the country in building the exact piece of furniture they need for their client. We highly encourage you to work with a designer in purchasing our furniture. They can assist you in choosing colors, finish, door and foot options, and dimensions. We have relationships with designers found on our “Dealers and Showrooms” page on our website, and if your designer isn’t there, we are happy to work with them.

American Made

Our factory is located in Sheldon, SC, about 50 miles west of Charleston, and 45 miles north of Savannah, GA. Our furniture starts as rough lumber and we cut and mill it to workable lengths and finishes.

You can call us and talk to the craftsman that is building your furniture, the painter who is painting it, or the draftsman that is doing the CAD. You can even talk to our owners by simply asking for them!

We are American Made, and Made in America.

How to Order

Ordering is easy - choosing your furniture is the difficult part. On the attached order sheet, complete the order and simply fax it to us. If you have questions, simply call us. A few things to consider when you order:

- When you select your furniture, note the item number.
- Review the dimensions. If they need to change, note the preferred dimensions on the order sheet.
- If your selection has doors, identify your door style. (if different than the standard)
- If your selection has a base, identify your base style. (if different than the standard)
- Choose your color from our color pallet. If you want a special color that is not in our pallet, please contact us.
- If you want a few samples of our colors, call us and we will ship them to you. You can have up to 5 color samples shipped.
- Choose your finish. We have 5 finishes – Level I to Level V. If you need help deciding, please call us and we can help you.

Terms

Upon ordering, we require a 50% deposit. We require the remaining balance at the time of shipment.

Lead Time

Lead time is an industry term that describes the time it takes to construct your furniture to the time it is ready to ship. Lead time is typically 8-10 weeks from the date of the deposit receipt. It does not include shipping time from the time it leaves our dock to the time it gets to your home (known as delivery time). Depending on the shipping method, delivery time can be 5 – 15 days.

How long will it take to get my furniture?

Upon receipt of your 50% deposit, we will state a shipping date to you. This is when the item(s) is ready to ship from our factory. Delivery from our factory to you is dependent on type of shipping chosen.

Shipping

We will pay up to 15% of the total cost of the order to ship your furniture. In many cases, this will cover the cost of shipping and insurance. For special delivery, such as White Glove Delivery, shipping costs vary. We will pay 15% of the cost, and the remainder will be added to your remaining balance.

Call us – We are here to help you!

Our furniture is handmade. Our preference is to speak with you and assist you with your decisions. We want your experience to be equal to the quality of furniture we build. If you find the ordering process confusing, call us and we are happy to help with any questions you may have, or we can direct you to a nearby designer to assist you.
